SELECTED WORK EXPERIENCE

Université Laval & Center For The Study Of Democratic Citizenship Sept 2024-March 2026
Postdoctoral Researcher

- Administered and analyzed novel panel dataset on recent immigrants. Research sponsored by MIFI (Quebec immigration agency), who recruited participants through administrative data. Led research teams in paper development using this novel dataset. Performed comprehensive data cleaning & preparation of messy panel data. Conducted statistical analyses (DiD, matching & fixed effects, among others) to isolate causal relationships between immigrants' initial experiences and subsequent political/social integration outcomes. First panel dataset in North America focused exclusively on newly arrived immigrants' political attitudes.

Collingwood Research April 2023-Present
Contract Data Scientist

- Prepared & analyzed data for redistricting litigation. Using R, wrote scripts to programmatically scrape election data from (often low quality) PDFs, join with other data sources, & create usable data-frames for analysis. Used ecological inference on said data frames with the goal of creating robust empirical evidence of racially polarized voting for use in court. Applied expertise in academic literature to create work product for litigation.

UC Riverside Political Science Department Sept 2017-May 2024
Teaching Assistant, Associate In

- Lead student discussion sections and facilitated learning of course material. Responsible for creating discussion section content (Presentations, quizzes, etc), as well as administration of sections.
- Also responsible for teaching several courses as the instructor of record. Designed course content, supervised TAs, and set and met learning goals for both upper and lower division courses.

UC Riverside Center for Ideas and Society Jan 2020-Sept 2020
Researcher

- Contributed to a variety of research projects with an on-campus think tank. Responsible for sourcing data, changing it into a usable form, and providing finished data to colleagues. Also assisted with writing of some reports.
